Wayland Schools grieving tragic loss

Community came out for board meeting

By Joseph Schultz

The crowd that packed the boardroom for the Wayland Union School Board meeting Monday night experienced a rare bittersweet meeting. Bitter, from the passing of freshman Dallyce Parm, who took her own life on April 2.

Parm's death cast a palpable shadow of sadness over the meeting. Superintendent Tim Reeves recognized, in a prepared statement, the deep sadness the community was feeling over the student's passing. Reeves went on to address the questions and concerns over bullying in the school district.

"First, I want to be clear," Reeves said. "Based on the information available to us, Dallyce's death was not the result of bullying within the school setting."

The superintendent warned about inaccurate information and agendas being put forth that were not supported by the facts. When an accusation of bullying is made, the district follows its policies and conducts an investigation.

One of the things the school wants to determine is if the conduct was bullying or simply mean and unkind behavior. That distinction, according to Reeves, matters in how the conduct is addressed.

It was also recognized by the superintendent that many student conflicts start or escalate outside of school, often on social media. The superintendent is not alone in this observation. Recently Meta, the parent company of Facebook and Instagram, was ordered by a New Mexico jury to pay $375 million in civil penalties for misleading its customers about the safety of its social platforms. In California, Meta was ordered to pay a woman $4.2 million for causing her addictive and suicidal behavior through Meta's "engagement-driven design." Meta is appealing the decisions.

To address this shortcoming, Reeves suggested a partnership between the schools to the board before. When Gillette's daughter was assaulted on a school bus, the lack of action from the school administration caused Gillette to remove her daughter from the school district.

Gillette stated that when she posted on Facebook that she would be raising the issue of bullying to the board, a number of responses came from other parents who had removed their children from the school district because of bullying.

Another parent, Nissa Smith, came out to show support for the district on the bullying issue. Smith expressed the need to continue finding "better pathways of understanding" in light of not only the passing of Parm but also the attempted suicide of another unnamed student on April 11.

Parent Anthony Winters lamented that search results for Wayland Schools will bring up stories of bullying but not the positive things happening in the school district. Winters noted that the news that the Robotics Team was going to the state finals, as well as the awards, recognitions, and community events the district has been receiving, have been overshadowed by tragedy.

Reeves ended his statement about the loss by saying, "The young people in this community are watching how we handle conflict and handle tragedy. Let's show them what it looks like to come together, to ask questions, and to work side by side to learn, heal, and grow."

Sale of Calkins Bridge Dam rests with commissions

By Gari Voss

The Calkins Bridge Dam that forms Lake Allegan is one of the 13 dams whose sale is being examined by state and federal regulators. Members of the Lake Allegan Association have been involved in multiple discussions, first with Consumers Energy as the decision was made to put the 13 dams on the selling block then with Confluence Hydro after the sale was announced. The Association members continued to dig into Confluence Hydro and their history in restoring and licensing hydroelectric dams in other parts of the U.S.

"The Lake Allegan Association, Inc. strongly supports the sale to Confluence Hydro," explained Coco Soodek, President of the Lake Allegan Association, Inc. "We are determined to preserve our lake, and we have concluded that working with Confluence Hydro is our best path forward."

The final decision regarding the sale of Consumers Energy's 13 hydroelectric dams is now in the hands of the state and federal regulators. Consumers Energy has owned and operated the 13 dams across Michigan, but when entering the relicensing stage, they began a series of conversations with the communities in which those dams are located. After multiple conversations, the decision was made to sell the dams.

Confluence Hydro made an offer to purchase the dams, and in September 2025, the announcement was made. A team of representatives from Consumers Energy and Confluence Hydro held a series of meetings with stakeholders of the 13 dams. During these gatherings, they listened to the stakeholders to determine their concerns related to the purchase of the dams. Armed with this information, Confluence Hydro moved forward to request approval from state and federal regulators.

On April 8, 2026, Consumers Energy officials told a state commission that selling the 13 hydroelectric dams remains the best option for Michigan, the support of the local communities, and the lowest, long-term cost for customers. Consumers Energy officials have shared in public filings that other options – including removing the dams altogether – are significantly more expensive for Michigan customers.

"Consumers Energy has spent over a century operating our dams safely, reliably and affordably. Selling the dams ensures we build on their past to power Michigan's future," said Rick Blumenstock, Consumers Energy's executive director of electric supply engineering. "Not only does their sale ensure that they continue safe, reliable operations, but it's the lowest-cost choice for our customers, and it keeps the reservoirs that are vital to local communities."

As Blumenstock and representatives from Confluence Hydro presented to the Michigan Natural Resources Commission, they emphasized how they had been transparent by reaching out to communities across the state since the announcement of the sale.

"Consumers Energy has been looking at the dams' future for over four years, and input from neighbors in public meetings and conversations with community groups has been critical," explained the group. "Consumers Energy and Confluence Hydro continue to express their desire to keep working to promote local prosperity and honor their long-term commitment to the communities around the dams."

If state and federal regulators approve the sale, Consumers Energy and Confluence Hydro wish to engage in a seamless transition for all communities involved. The dams' operations will remain the same, nearby land will remain part of their footprint, and Confluence Hydro will be a partner to communities that look to the dams for economic and recreational benefits.

"We have had several meetings with the senior leaders of Confluence Hydro," explained Soodek. "We approached them skeptically and were ready to oppose their purchase of our lake and Calkins Bridge Dam. But, in spite of our resistance, we liked them and feel confident in their ability and willingness to take, safeguard, improve, and carry on the work of generating power at Calkins Bridge Dam and managing Lake Allegan. We found them passionate about renewable energy, including this strange, ancient version. They have told us they are in this for the long term, not just the 5-10 years before us. They have assured us that this is not merely a buy and flip transaction. They have traveled to meet with us, taken and answered our questions, and have committed to serving as a responsible, responsive steward of the ecology and community in and around Lake Allegan."

"One thing that came out over and over during community meetings is the positive aspects of the dams – whether it's trails, hiking and camping, tax revenue for local communities, or the habitat for bats at the Tippy Dam," said Adam Monroe, Consumers Energy's executive director of hydro operations. "We appreciate the opportunity to explain why this sale is best for Michigan and hope people will see why we're excited to start a new chapter with Confluence Hydro."

"We are not naïve. We understand the demands and business models of private equity," stressed Soodek. "We know that there will be pressure to convert this investment into an exit strategy. We also know that we have a current landlord that wants to sell out, and we have parts of our state government that are now openly – and infuriatingly – hostile to our lovely, loved lake and community. We'll take the commitment and goodwill of the professionals dedicated to profitably and safely operating river hydro in our neighborhood to the other folks who are ready to erase our community for profit or ideology. We're with Confluence Hydro. We hope the MPSC approves the sale."

Lake Allegan Association members will continue to keep a vigilant eye on the decisions made at the state and federal levels. As summer approaches, the Lake Allegan Association plans on hosting fun-filled activities.

Ganges Township seeks ordinance enforcement officer

By Art Nicholas

After months of discussion at township board and planning commission meetings, Ganges Township has officially posted a notice seeking to hire a part-time Ordinance Enforcement Officer — a position residents and commissioners have been pressing to fill.

The notice, posted by Township Clerk Robin Phelps, states that Ganges Township is seeking a dependable individual to carry out and enforce local ordinances within the community. Responsibilities will include investigating complaints, conducting site inspections, issuing notices of violation, and preparing reports. The position is part-time, with compensation to be discussed at the time of hire.

The push for the role has been building in recent months. At the January 27, 2026, Planning Commission meeting, Trustee Dick Hutchins reported that the Township Board was actively working to find an enforcement officer. Resident Chuck Mannion of 6611 Deer Trail echoed the urgency, suggesting the board finalize the job description and post it publicly to maximize visibility.

The township already has a suite of ordinances on the books that the new officer would be tasked with upholding, including a Vehicle Storage & Repair Ordinance, a Litter Ordinance, and an Anti-Noise and Public Nuisance Ordinance — regulations addressing the types of quality-of-life complaints common in

A Bouquet of Arts holds opportunities for all ages, talents and passions. There is a full complement of vendors and artists in the Artists Market for those wishing to shop. Whiskey & Wine Band will take the stage at 1:30pm to provide music and some ambiance.

For poetry lovers, at 10:30am, members of North, a poetry group, will read Ekphrastic poems written in response to prints and paintings by local artists. North is a group organized by Elizabeth Kerlikowske and Kathleen McGookey.

“The group gathers biweekly to share and critique work, celebrating words, art, and community,” shared AAAC organizers. “Members have included Robin Church, Melanie Dunbar, Jill Doster Marcusse, Amy Newday, and Julie Stotz-Ghosh. The poems and artwork will be displayed in the Silent Auction Area.”

The Silent Auction includes wonderful pieces of artwork by local artists, pieces from local artisans, and baskets of goodies.

Workshops cover a variety of genres. Drew Enborsky, the Crochet Dude, will lead a class on creating dimensional crochet flowers with all materials provided and only basic crochet skills necessary.

The Art of Miniature Moss Gardening workshop will include a brief discussion of moss and

A nine-acre parcel that eventually is supposed to be the new home for the Wayland Ford dealership in Hopkins Township won a zoning issue Monday night from the Hopkins Township Board.

Wayland Ford not long ago announced its intentions to move from its current site in the City of Wayland across the U.S.-131 expressway west into the township, saving a lot of money on property taxes. To help accommodate the move, the township created a downtown development authority district for 13 properties on the west side of U.S.-131 in an effort to entice businesses to locate there.

The Schanz Family Trust, the seller of the land, was represented by Mike Houseman of the Wolverine BuildingGroup.

However, the Hopkins Township Planning Commission earlier this year did not recommend to the Township Board the dealership’s conditional rezoning proposal, from C-1, neighborhood business district, to C-2, general business district.

Planning Commission members explained there wasn’t enough infrastructure, secure as water and sewer, to accommodate the project.

But commission members changed their tune afterward, insisting, “Because the applicant’s conditional rezoning request presents these specific circumstances and benefits, but limits the potential negative effects that may arise with respect to public water and sewer availability with an unconditional C-2 unconditional rezoning of the subject property, this is a unique circumstance where conditional rezoning is appropriate.

So the rezoning proposal was presented again to the Township Board, this time with the Planning Commission’s blessing and it was approved on a 5-0 vote.

In other business at the meeting, the Township Board:

- Tabled a plan to plant 28 trees in Maplewood Cemetery, mostly because the township sexton outlined several reasons the project may include long-term risks, particularly blocking the road with the trees.
- Purchased an easement for $1 for the Hilliards Park, on property the township already has purchased.
- Agreed to pay $625 to Past Preservation LLC to repair a headstone that has no family connections and could be an obstruction down the road.
- Noted the resignation of Mike Alberta as janitor for the township hall. His resignation will be effective next month. The job pays $19 an hour.
- Agreed to pay for a Microsoft subscription for $2,000 a year and up to $840 a year to Google to handle e-mail services. Supervisor Cade Bolser said the moves will save the township$640 a year.
- Noted that Allegan Solar LLC has withdrawn its application and the Michigan Public Services Commission now is in control of local solar requests.

Headline Correction:

To dispel the confusion regarding the front page headline on April 9, 2026. The headline should have read Cheshire supervisor and treasurer resign from township board. Supervisor Steve Revor resigned as of April 1, 2026, and Treasurer Ron Hale will leave the position after April 15, 2026. Clerk Jodi Pinnell was elected when Donna Hetzel decided not to run for re-election after many years of serving the township. Clerk Pinnell, as any new clerk, has a steep learning curve as she learns to navigate how a township board operates.

CEDAM Fellow praised by Allegan Council for efforts to improve housing

By Gari Voss

The City of Allegan’s Council began with an Arbor Day Proclamation then received information from Lori Antkoviak from Safe Harbor about April being Child Abuse Prevention Month and from Betsy Peterson and Linda Teeter of the Allegan County Legal Assistance Center. The thread that went through the agenda was the development of properties around the city. As Mohammed Gabow, a Community Economic Development Association of Michigan (CEDAM) Fellow, comes to the end of his 15-month internship, he took time to review the progress the city has made during this time. For his many accomplishments, the Council voiced their thanks.

SPECIAL PRESENTATIONS
Arbor Day Proclamation. Allegan has received Tree City USA recognition for 40 years, and as Arbor Day, Friday, April 24, 2026, approaches, Mayor Traci Perrigo read and signed a proclamation affirming Allegan’s continued support in planting and caring for the trees around the city. On April 24th at 10am, the Department of Public Works staff invite the public to gather for the planting of an Emerald Sunshine Elm in Hanson Park. On Tuesday, April 28th, the city staff will make a presentation at North Ward School to discuss the importance of trees and demonstrate how to plant and care for white pine seedlings that will be given to each student.

Arbor Day was proposed in 1872 by J. Sterline Morton to the Nebraska Board of Agriculture and was first observed with the planting of more than a million trees in Nebraska. This is now a countrywide celebration. Trees are a valuable resource for protecting the soil, recreation, and industry. They increase property value and maintain the environment.

PUBLIC HEARINGS AND ADOPTION OF ORDINANCE
Special Assessment Roll. The Council held a Public Hearing for the Adoption of Resolution 26.12 regarding the confirmation of the Summer 2026 Special Assessment Roll. This assessment began with the identification of parcels that had not paid their fees accrued when the city staff conducted work such as cutting grass or removing blight from the property. The request for payment has followed the communication process. The Council agreed to have the outstanding assessments added to the property tax bill for each parcel if the amount has not been paid by June 30, 2026.

North Main Street. The Council held the Public Hearing for the sale of a small parcel on N. Main Street. and approved the sale and development of city owned property to ND Community Partners, LLC for $6,000. The buyers would like to develop the parcel by adding a small home and detached garage. This parcel has no government purposes, so can be sold and developed to fit in with the surrounding neighborhood. The Council approved the sale.

PUBLIC COMMENT
The owner of Dr. Watts Electric, LLC spoke to the importance of hiring a licensed electrician to make installations of and improvement to electrical systems.

WRITTEN PETITIONS and PRESENTATIONS
Legal Assistance Center. Betsy Peterson, president, and Linda Teeter, director of finance, of the Allegan County Legal Assistance Center made a presentation to the Council regarding the work of the Center. Since October 2025, the Center’s staff has assisted 208 city residents. The Center was able to guide people through the correct paperwork and help them take the next steps in the legal system. Teeter requested that the city contract with the Center for $3,500 (July 2026 – June 2027) to assist patrons who need assistance with self-representation in civil court matters. This was an increase from the previous $2,500 that covered only 7 months.

Safe Harbor Child Abuse Prevention. Lori Antkoviak, executive director of Safe Harbor, spoke regarding Safe Harbor and Child Abuse Prevention Month. Safe Harbor continues to deliver services to children who have been abused and to assist as a liaison between the legal system and counseling. Antkoviak stressed the importance of the prevention efforts available in Allegan. She thanked the city for making the Bridge blue in recognition of Prevention Month. The Pinwheel Gardens are still a sign of a healthy, happy childhood. Safe Harbor saw 135 children who were sexually abused in 2025. CASA workers did follow-up with 16 children. To prevent child abuse, students in Allegan County schools were given presentations about recognizing unsafe touch. The Safe Harbor Gala is coming on Thursday, April 23, 2026. Funding has been decreased so the fundraisers are extremely important to the work of Safe Harbor.

REPORTS
Downtown Development Authority. Mayor Perrigo reviewed the April 2026 Downtown Development Authority Meeting. The group discussed snow removal and the downtown trash and recycling programs. They voted to submit the applications of EccentricGarden LLC and Lacey’s Nail Studio LLC to the Michigan Economic Development Commission (MEDC) for possible grants.

Administrative Services
Account Payable & Payroll. The request to approve accounts payable in the amount of $1,611,914.54 and payroll in the amount of $243,485.28 for a total disbursement of $1,855,399.82 passed.

Revenue & Expenditures. Councilmembers could review the February 2026 Revenue and Expenditure Report. These are available to the public online. Any questions can be directed to City Hall.

Possible Weeks Steet Sale. The request to schedule a public hearing for May 11, 2026, regarding the potential sale of city owned parcel 51-290-003-00 on Weeks Street to Brandon and Melissa Genzink was approved. The city staff can develop a sale agreement with the Genzinks, but before any final decision can be made, it must be published in the newspaper. The Genzinks have completed developing a parcel on James Street, and the Council looks for the same success on Week Street.

Monroe Street Purchase. The Council reviewed a proposal from the owner of 226 Monroe Street that would allow the city to purchase their property that backs up to Jaycee Park. The Council expressed their thanks for the thought, but they are not in a position to purchase any property at this time.

Downtown Refuse & Recycling Program. The Council reviewed and adopted the proposed change to the Downtown Allegan Refuse & Recycling Program. The system began in 2023. Usually, there is an overflow of a couple city trash receptacles. The DDA suggested that the City eliminate the cardboard and paper recycling containers which would be replaced with additional trash receptacles. There is no cardboard or paper recycling in the city, so people will have to cut up their cardboard and dispose of it in the trash receptacles. The idea was proposed of having recycling at the city public works, but this did not receive support. The city has paid over $13,000 in contamination fines plus Parker Johnson and Ryan Burza have spent hours sorting the areas to prevent further contamination.

Review Griswold Facilities Assessment. The assessment of the Griswold Auditorium by Abon-marche was included in the Council packet. There were 11 categories that were determined to be in poor condition. Six of those areas have been addressed as part of 2025 capital improvements. Three areas are undergoing observation and further investigation. Two will be addressed with 2026 capital improvement funds if approved by the City Council. This would include the Marilla Lounge and accessibility to the front entrance.

Community Economic Development (CEDAM) Review. Mohammed Gabow, the Community Economic Development Association of Michigan (CEDAM) Fellow who has been working with the City of Allegan, reviewed the work he has accomplished during his time in Allegan. His primary task was to focus on improving the housing stock that has been in limited supply.

One accomplishment has been the partnership with the Michigan State Housing Development Authority (MSHDA) and Lakeshore Habitat for Humanity to implement a home repair program. The grant funds have been used to replace roofs, windows and furnaces. The office continues to receive requests for assistance.

Mohammed worked with city employees to conduct regular code enforcement assessments and identify blight, exterior maintenance concerns, and junk vehicles.

In addition to improving housing, Mohammed identified parcels that the city owned but would never develop. These were put up for sale, and several have been sold or are in the process of being sold and developed or integrated with adjoining properties.

Gabow worked on the development of acreage on Delano Street into 42 new single-family homes, 38 condominiums in the development stage on the former Girl Scout property, and a 52-unit apartment complex on Lowe Street in the planning stage. These will give Allegan new housing options.

Working with Chris Kleinjans of the Allegan County Community Foundation, Mohammed assisted in creating the Allegan Housing Summit. The second summit will happen in May 2026. It is a county-wide event that brings together local leaders, housing organizations & developers, and community stakeholders to explore the challenges and strategies related to building homes.

Along with the wins during the last 15 months, Gabow present several challenges or barriers.

He hoped for a stronger attendance during the Open House sessions at City Hall where capital improvement projects were shared. There was truly underrepresentation of younger residents, renters, working families, and other populations. There is still much work to do in securing grants to assist with building projects. To continue expanding downtown vibrancy, improvements will continue to be needed, especially on exterior facades.

Mohammed that the Council and city staff for giving him this opportunity. He shared that he had learned a lot and had built a solid network of partners so Allegan can continue to move forward in the housing sector. As Allegan moves forward, Mohammed expressed his willingness to serve as a team member.

COMMUNICATIONS FROM THE CITY MANAGER

Joel Dye expressed his pleasure working with Mohammed. He also reported that the response to the RFP for the Griswold brought a wide variety of companies who toured the building and planned on submitting bids.

ROUNDTABLE DISCUSSION
There was a resounding thank you to Mohammed from all council members who have been amazed at what he has accomplished in building a network and seeking funding.

Monday, April 20, 2026, from 4:30-6:30pm Councilmembers Will Walker and Melanie Hooker will be at the library for conversation about the city.

The Allegan County Sheriff’s Marine Division are ready to assist boaters, but they would rather not respond to accidents that could have been prevented if those involved had taken the proper safety courses and follow the rules of boating. The free 2026 Boater Safety courses are now being offered. Picture courtesy of Allegan County.

Boating Safety classes offered by Sheriff’s Marine Division

By Gari Voss

Summer is rolling in between the April Showers. Those who love to recreate on the water are already dipping their boats, kayaks and canoes into the water. But before getting too carried away, the Allegan County Sheriff’s Office Marine Division asked that everyone stop and attend one of the free boating safety classes.

The purpose of these courses is to instruct citizens about boating safety as well as inform them of current boating laws in the State of Michigan. Every year boating accidents take the lives of or cause injury to those in control of a watercraft or a passenger of the craft. By taking proactive steps, those who love the water can mitigate water accidents.

Deputy Rob Martin reminds boaters, “In order to legally operate motorized watercraft in Michigan, the State of Michigan requires persons born after July 1, 1996, to attend and successfully complete a boating safety course and possess a valid boating safety certificate while on the water.”

He adds, “Those persons wishing to legally operate a Personal Watercraft (PWC) must be at least 16 years of age and born after December 31, 1978. They also must possess a valid boating safety certificate while on the water. Other restrictions may apply.”

To find a Boater Safety Class and register, classes can be found online at the Sheriff’s website, <http://cms.allegancounty.org/sheriff/Patrol/SitePages/Marine.aspx> or click to register on the DNR website <https://michigan.storefront.kalkomey.com/em/programs/9>.

Once on the website, participants can choose the class they wish to attend and enter their information.

Children under 12 years old may take a class, but their parent or guardian must be in attendance. Once registered, a confirmation email will be sent.

The courses offered in Allegan County are:

May 2nd, 9am – 3pm
Plainwell Middle School
May 20th & 21st 6pm – 9pm

Here’s why a printed weekly newspaper is important

Robert Tomlinson, our news director in Three Rivers, gave a terrific speech to the local Rotary Club about the importance of your local newspaper. I thought I would share a portion with you.

“With our twelve weekly newspapers the mission is the same. To bring you the news of our area with accurate, truthful, and informative reporting. Every week, I’m out and about at meetings, (and so are 20 other reporters we employ) events, festivals, and many sporting events to capture the happenings of our beautiful county and talk with the movers and shakers that make our community what it is.

One of the questions I get asked sometimes is this: Why does a hard-copy local newspaper matter in the Year of our Lord 2026? And the statistics surrounding local journalism means this question is, unfortunately, a legitimate one. According to Northwestern University, the number of newspapers published in the United States has dropped by almost 40 percent since 2005, and daily circulation nationwide since the turn of the century has dropped from between 50 and 60 million to now just over 15 million as of the end of 2025. Over 130 newspapers alone closed shop in 2025.

My usual response to those who ask why local newspapers matter is this: It is the most truthful and thorough way to get the news of what your town and its government are up to on any given week. Nowadays, social media like Facebook and Twitter cannot be fully trusted to give you the complete story, and most of what people post can be described as hearsay, gossip, and even outright lies at times. What they value is outrage, discourse, and cheap clicks rather than the truth, which is what I believe ultimately should matter in today’s society, even if that truth may be tough to swallow and challenge previously held beliefs.

I also believe that local newspapers are the last bastion of American democracy, especially in the divisive times we live in today. And I don’t mean the big, national newspapers that are owned by people who have never worked in a newsroom in their lives. I’m talking about ones that care about their local community, care about the people in the community, and want to see it succeed while acknowledging its flaws, shortcomings, and worries.

We are the only print newspaper outlet to be at the city and county meetings, the local township meetings, and some of the school board meetings, letting you know everything that goes on as best we can. While we cannot be at everything going on, we do our best to make sure that we cover the news that is impactful and relevant for the community and its future. Do you want to know which roads are getting paved next? We’ve got that. Do you want to know what tax money was spent on at the local city commission meeting? We’ve got that. Do you want to know about the next big festival coming to town? We’ve got that too.

What you won’t find, however, is rumors or gossip like you’d find on Facebook. There’s a lot that’s being said about social media being assignment editors for many national and local journalists nowadays. While social media can be helpful at times with some things as a local journalist, like I said a bit ago social media is not the end-all, be-all to be fully informed about the inner workings of the community. That comes from publications like ours.”

I couldn’t have said it better. Kudos to Robert for a helluva speech, and much thanks to those that consider their weekly newspaper a must read.

The recent decision by Allegan County Commissioners to change home delivered meal providers for The Olds caught my attention.

My first thought came from a line from the film “The Godfather” when one of the mobsters ordered a hit on a rival. “It’s business; it’s nothing personal.”

No, I’m not comparing the commissioners to gangsters, or anything like it. It’s a line that frequently comes to mind whenever there is any sort of change. As a card-carrying member of The Olds, I have the right to do that. It means we all must make painful decisions based on economics or good business sense, even when people still get hurt.

A friend from Pier Cove area delivered Meals on Wheels for years. He liked the job, quickly learning the best part came from connections he made at each stop. Friendship formed. He looked forward to seeing people on his route looking forward his knock at the door.

When we turn off the electronic noise and prattle, the most important part of our lives will always be these connections with people.

They come in all sizes, from the big ones like family members and maybe a couple from our pasts, to very short interactions, like someone saying hello or giving a compliment as we pass them on the street. They send the message, “I see you.” Good short-term connections hang in our minds for years, yielding smiles as dividends.

My father taught my sister and me that we were to be polite and remember to speak to people. Some nights over dinner he didn’t ask what we learned in school, but who we spoke to today.

I remember mentioning names like my teacher, our principal, classmates and so on. More than once he would ask, “Didn’t see the janitor today? What about the ladies running the lunchroom?” The message was clear: they were just as important as the principal.

“Times are different now” is true if you still think time is solely a linear progression. Human connections are just as important now.

Remember fax machines? Back then they seemed magical. After making interesting electronic noises, which we called their “mating calls,” we could send printed messages across phone lines to anywhere in the world. We could stay in touch without having to see each other; an introvert’s dream. It was efficient for business, but soon became too efficient.

A United Airlines TV commercial showed a sales manager telling his team about how they had lost a valuable client because no one flew cross country see him. With that, he handed out airline tickets for staff to visit their clients in person. “I’m going to see that fellow we lost, he went on.

It wasn’t just the fax machine, internet, lately AI. For the past 25 we’ve seen further isolation and separation. We became worried about strangers, with the mantra, “Stranger Danger!” we think at once when we meet them.

Airline travel became abysmal long before the security checks. The Covid epidemic boxed us off and in. At least the last three national elections made us cut ties as well.

Political parties became a litmus test as to who was allowed in homes and even churches. All those roads lead to loneliness, root cause of most terminal illness. Lonely people self-sabotage until they’re destructive.

Many governments and institutions find it in their best interests for us to stay isolated. When coffee was introduced to Europe, tipplers switched from their morning pint of beer to hot beans, drinking it for the effect. The taste was as best acquired but a cup or two turned on the juice. They thought and talked more, a big change from mind-dulling booze flagons.

England’s King Charles I feared his ordinary subjects might have and exchange ideas with others. Both he and a distant cousin who was

King of Sweden briefly tried to outlaw and close coffee shops.

Tell someone they can’t have their favorite drink, and remember the Boston Tea Party? It led to a pushback, and then rebellion. Early in 1650, those coffee-drinking people lopped off Charles’s head.

Cold War U.S. Sen. Joe McCarthy (R-Wisc.) puffed up fear of communism to a point where even grown-up kids were terrified Russky spies were in every classroom or other place of gathering. Fluoride in our drinking water? It became too much.

Red-baiter McCarthy came to a bitter end, and The Olds then wondered how one man could turn us against each other.

During the 1960s Civil Rights battles, authorities did not want minorities to convene in march and protest. Those were busted up with billy clubs and attack dogs.

The current administration has used similar tactics to intimidate minorities suspected of being here illegally. Plus they mock and laugh at the No Kings marches.

Holding, then preserving power can become addictive. Protect the institution first, which means dividing those you perceive threaten you and it.

There’s no escape from this muddle in the middle. So let’s beat them at their own game. If you feel lost and alone, my father had the right answer: If you want friends, be a friend. Make the first move, extend your right hand, smile, speak. Seize the day!

LETTERS TO THE EDITOR

No Autocrats, Yes Hippocrites

Dear Editor:

The recent “No Kings” gatherings are good reminders of how fortunate we are to be Americans with an always imperfect government that not only still functions, but it also provides the safety and inspiration for such so-called “organic” events. The irony is that attempts to compare today’s arm chair dissent with the high risk dissent of 1776 are convincing proof that America at present is anything but a dictatorship.

When was the last time you saw handheld “No Supreme Leader” signs in Pyongyang or “No Czar” signs in Moscow? How many of the Iranians murdered this past January in Tehran BY THEIR OWN GOVERNMENT were carrying “No Ayatollah” signs? I have never seen pictures of an American flag being flown proudly in the Gaza Strip, but I saw too many Hamas flags being flown over tent encampments on universities across our state-- to include one allowed outside of Haenicke Hall on the WMU campus--in 2024. How would an actual tyrannical king tolerate such displays?

The insulated folks recently protesting President Trump’s sometimes brash--but necessary--attempts to repair the damage done by Biden and Obama (“I have a pen and I will use it!”) all looked well-fed, well-clothed, well-shod and very safe. Speaking of well-shod, I wonder how many of the comfortable sneakers and boots worn by the pre-fab banner-waving No Kings protesters were made in China?

Perhaps if one is truly concerned about civil rights s/he/they [sic] might make better efforts to not provide resources for the worst of civil rights violators, the CCP. Stop buying Made in Communist China shoes, clothes, electronics, phones, toys and books manufactured by truly hard-done-by workers. The ultimate irony is that more than half of the Bibles sold in the US today have been printed in a country that will only allow its citizens to read its corrupted version of the Bible. Read the labels before buying, folks.

We witnessed fabricated and subsidized outrage by “mostly peaceful” rioters in 2020 after a heavily medicated--and sainted--George Floyd died while being restrained in Minneapolis. In 2025, in the same city, we saw violent dissent by more “organic” protestors who were attempting to prevent bona fide law enforcement from arresting illegal alien criminals. If the “No Kings” folks were honest, they should be carrying “No Fuehrer” signs to complement the unfair comparisons of their current targets to Hitler, Nazis, Fascists and Stormtroopers. If they were honest, they would take a deeper dive into history and see if Beer Hall Putsch, Krystalnacht, Reichstag Fire and Final Solution allow them to continue the ersatz parallels they are trying to make.

And yes, I am well-aware that January 6, 2021 was another “organic” demonstration which should never have happened, and I believe that many of the perps were guilty of, at the very least, trespass and vandalism. Sadly, however, unless all of the information about that dark day in our history is revealed, we will never know the full truth about it.

If only the energy generated by today’s “Minutemen” who declare that “the fascists are coming!” could be channeled into the real injustices of voting irregularities, illegal immigrant crime, abortion and welfare fraud, then their protestations would be credible. Until then, may God continue to bless us by providing a haven where Life, Liberty and a Pursuit--NOT GUARANTEED--of Happiness allows even the misguided a platform to protest. Happy Bisesquicentennial Birthday America!! And many more.....

State Representative Rachelle Smit’s Politics and the Save Act

Dear Editor:

State Representative Rachelle Smit co-authored a request by letter to then Attorney General Pam Bondi to have the present DOJ take over elections in Michigan. This request (letter) was in November 2025.

The Heritage Foundation, a Republican Database, has reported that the last 1 billion votes casted found 77 cases of attempted fraud (.0000000077 of 1 percent). This is hardly a case for alarm.

Representative Smit’s focus was one of her deceased in-laws remained on voter rolls. This occurred in Martin, Michigan when she was serving as clerk, and now has accused the Secretary of State of Michigan of corruption. This is totally anecdotal and something that (almost never) occurs. Many politicians use an anecdote to further their stance even when they know it’s not true.

Representative Rachelle Smit should spend her time focusing on her duties to represent citizens in the 43rd House district. It appears her love for a corrupt administration in Washington is doing her no favors. The federal government does not have a say in elections. Each state has specific rules and regulations for elections. An elected official should know this.

The Republican “Save Act” is designed to disenfranchise millions of voters, the majority being people of color and women. One provision would be for voters to possess a passport. There are 146 million voters who do not have a passport. The “Save Act” would make it more difficult for tens of millions of spouses who have changed their names through marriage to vote. Republicans do not want women to vote in large numbers because women turn out to vote at a higher rate than men. Reputable politicians should want more citizens to vote not fewer.

The “Save Act” wants to require in person registration that would force 60 million rural voters to travel far from their homes to become eligible to vote. The “Save Act” is becoming a poll tax in order to cast a ballot and vote. The lies politicians use to defend the “Save Act” need to be called out. The “Save Act” would do nothing than legalize voter suppression.

A political party that openly attempts to stop citizens from their constitutional right to vote, no longer legislates using honorable and virtuous means. Their constituents are the least of their concern!

Donnie playing with economy like it’s a toy

Editor.

Word has it that when he was growing up Donnie was an unruly child.

He would often break his toys and bully his playmates.

But he always had his father ready to step in and be there to buy new toys and there were plenty of new friends except when he got more than a little out of control and had to be sent off to a military school where parents pay a lot of money for good grades and behavior reports.

And who knows how much it cost his father to get him into a top school of finance where following graduation his broken toys now included casinos and hotels. But there was still a daddy waiting with his checkbook to bail him out and buy new friends.

Now his toys are bigger still: the American economy, the Middle East, the global economy, a multi-national alliance, world trade.

Name it and he’s there to break it.

But, where’s daddy? Tired of the broken toys it is now up to the bullied playmates to fix them.

Is the global flow of oil all clotted up? Let those who need it go get it. Not his problem.

He’s off to the next shiny object.

Oh! Look over there! Let’s go play with Cuba!

David Ohmart.

Mary Anne Harsh, PhD

Mary Anne Harsh, PhD, passed away on April 11 at the Ohio State University Medical Center. She was 79 years old.

Born in December 1946 in Kalamazoo, Michigan, to Fred B. and Marian A. (Waller) Roberson, Mary Anne spent her early years on the family farm near Plainwell, Michigan. A self-proclaimed tomboy, she learned to drive a tractor at 12, explored the outdoors with abandon and accumulated a few memorable injuries along the way, including a broken arm courtesy of her brother Jim and a rickety hay wagon (he was not pleased). Those early years on the farm shaped a woman who would spend her whole life learning, creating and growing things.

She married her high school sweetheart, Michael A. Harsh, on the longest night of the year in 1966, and the two spent 60 years building a life together. After Mike returned from his service in Vietnam, they made their first home in eastern Massachusetts, where Mary Anne continued her teaching career in English Language Arts. It was during those years that she and Mike discovered a shared love of antiquing — a hobby that became something closer to a calling, taking them across the country by van, filling their home and lives with beautiful things and even better stories. That wandering spirit eventually led them to Knox County, Ohio, where in the winter of 1973-74 they put down roots and purchased the first of two historic homes they would lovingly tend over the years. The van trips continued. Knox County just became the place they always came home to.

Somewhere along that journey, they decided parenthood was for them, and their daughter Molly arrived in May of 1977. Mary Anne was a “modern mother,” and took her young daughter on the road with her on many of her antique adventures in those early years.

Mary Anne was many things: scholar, teacher, gardener, crafter, beader, seamstress, wood-turner, fly-tier and devoted member of the Utica Coffee Club. She was polymath by nature and incessantly curious by temperament. At age 50 she began studying French language and literature with a passion that led her to earn multiple advanced degrees, culminating in her PhD from THE Ohio State University, which she completed at the age of 60. She went on to teach French at Bishop Hartley High School, The Ohio State University, St. Michael's College and Bowling Green State University. She did not take retirement gently.

In earlier chapters of her life, she founded the Enoch Thompson House, a garden and flower design business in Knox County where she sold perennials and herbs -- and dispensed words of wisdom with every purchase. Her garden was, in many ways, an extension of herself.

Even after a surgical accident left her unable to walk, Mary Anne never stopped planning. There was always a next adventure, a next project, a next thing to learn or make or tend. That spirit--restless, generous, and deeply alive--never left her.

Mary Anne is survived by her husband and best friend of over six decades, Michael Harsh; her daughter Molly Gutridge and son-in-law Matt; and her seven-year-old grandson Liam, who no doubt inherited at least a little of her curiosity and stubbornness. She is also survived by her sister-in-law Edith (Clint Wheeler) Harsh and brother-in-law William Harsh, both of Michigan. Her memory is cherished by many nieces, nephews, dear friends, a number of “adopted” kids, and the former students who will never forget her. She was preceded in death by her parents; her brother James Roberson and his wife Debra; and her beloved in-laws, Dala and Cliff Harsh.

The family extends their deepest gratitude to the NCCU team at OSU Medical Center for their extraordinary care and humanity, and to Heather Duffey, who cared for Mary Anne with such devotion over these past two years.

A joyful celebration of Mary Anne's life will be held at the Kokosing Nature Preserve, 10620 Quarry Chapel Road, Gambier on Saturday, May 2 at Noon. The family will receive friends beginning at 11:00 a.m. and you are invited to come with stories and memories of Mary Anne that help capture her amazing spirit. She did NOT want a funeral (and she never liked going to them) so please no mourning attire! The family will accompany Mary Anne to her final resting place in a private observance.

In lieu of flowers, the family welcomes memorial donations to the Utica Area Foundation Fund at the Licking Co. Foundation or the Philander Chase Conservancy at Kenyon College.

Fifth Annual ALEgan Craft Beer Fest Returns May 16th

Allegan County Photo Contest opens

By Gari Voss

Join the Allegan Jaycees for the Fifth Annual ALEgan Craft Beer Fest at the Allegan County Fairgrounds on Saturday, May 16, 2026, from 2-8pm. At this time, it is not too late to become a sponsor that helps this festival grow and gives back to the Allegan area.

In partnership with Tantrick Brewing Co., this year's festival features 16+ West Michigan breweries, each bringing their finest selections, along with food by The Mobile Crave and the Allegan Band boosters, plus a DJ and live music from 5-7pm featuring the high-energy Jacks Label Maker out of Caledonia, MI.

"The Allegan Jaycees are excited to continue our partnership with our friends from Tantrick Brewing Company and build on a successful event," said Ben Jalbert, an Allegan Jaycee. "Organizers have crafted this event in a way that's exciting for beer lovers but also welcoming to those who've never attended a beer fest before."

Jaycee State President Kyra Dutkiewicz explained, "The ALEgan Beerfest is designed to bring the community together to celebrate local craft beer, support small businesses, and create a fun and welcoming event in Allegan. It's a chance for people to experience breweries from across West Michigan, enjoy food and entertainment, and support a great cause."

Tickets are available now at <https://alleganjaycees.com/products/2026-alegan-beer-fest>. All attendees must be 21 or older—no exceptions. Participating breweries include: Tantrick Brewing Co., Schaendorf Brewing Co., and Heronmark of Allegan, 707 Winery and Brewery (Caledonia), Bier Distillery (Comstock Park), Doster Brewing Company (Doster), Oakestown Brewery (Grandville), Apoptosis Brewing Co. and One Well Brewing (Kalamazoo), Rusty Rocket Brewing (Pullman), Harbor Light Brewery (South Haven), Useless Creatures Brewing Company (Three Rivers), Sister Lakes Brewing Co. (Dowagiac), Silver Harbor (St. Joseph), Trail Lake Brewing Co. (Allendale) and more.

The Allegan Jaycees, founded in 1939, develop young leaders through community service and civic engagement. Their fundraising efforts support local programs, including community projects and assistance for families in need.

"Proceeds from the event go back into the community through the Allegan Jaycees," explained Dutkiewicz. "Funds help support local programs, community events, volunteer efforts, and improvements that benefit the Allegan area. Throughout the year, the Allegan Jaycees host community events, fundraisers, and volunteer initiatives that support local families and bring people together. These annual events help us raise funds, build connections, and make a lasting impact in Allegan. Our big projects are our Annual Easter Egg Hunt, the ALEgan Beerfest, Bridgefest, Pride, Allegan County Fair Concert Beverage Pouring, Adopt a Family, and more."

Audition open for Seedfolks, an Allegan Food Alliance
production

Faces in the Crowd

By Gari Voss

The Allegan Food Alliance is working to bring Seedfolks to life—a powerful story about a diverse community transformed through a shared garden created from a vacant lot. Directed by Laura Beckwith, the play is based on the novella Seedfolks by Paul Fleischman set in the Gibbs neighborhood of Cleveland. The story unfolds through a series of individual voices as neighbors - young and old, longtime residents and newcomers - step forward to share a piece of their story.

The production will be staged as a spoken-word (Readers Theater) performance, with each character telling his or her own story in turn.

The Allegan Food Alliance is currently seeking community members to take part in the production. No prior acting experience is required. They are simply looking for people willing to lend their voice to the telling of these stories.

Diversity is a key factor, so it is important to find actors of different nationalities and ages.

Set in a rundown neighborhood in Cleveland, the plot unravels through a dozen characters, which include a 9 year old Vietnamese girl, an elderly Romanian woman, a young (20ish) Black bodybuilder, an elderly Mexican man, who is grandfather (or great uncle) to a young boy, a Korean shop owner, a British woman, who caretakes a wealthy, disabled man in a wheelchair, a janitor, a teenage girl, and the list goes on.

Following the performance, the Food Alliance plans to gather the cast and audience for a shared, farm-to-table style meal and a community conversation. This is an opportunity to reflect together on questions like: Who do we welcome to the table? What does it mean to belong? And how might we grow stronger communities, just as we grow food, side by side?

Organizer Mary Colborn explained, “We also welcome interest from local farmers, growers, and food businesses who may wish to be part of the event through food, presence, or other forms of participation.”

The date of the auditions will be set in May with performances tentatively planned for late July or early August, with more details to come.

Those interested in participating or in learning more are encouraged to reach out to maryacolborn@allegan-foodalliance.org, cindyk-meyer@alleganfoodalliance.org, or 269-355-1335.

This project is part of the Come to the Table initiative and is rooted in the belief that something meaningful can grow when people come together.

Colborn requests, “Please, if you haven’t already, we ask you to complete the countywide food system survey at <https://www.surveymonkey.com/r/AFA-CTT2025>. Your voice matters.”

The White House just announced that as part of our nation’s 250th anniversary celebration, as a change in tradition, the President’s signature would now be added to our money. What are your thoughts?

-Man near the hardware store in Douglas: Rolled his eyes and said, “Same old, same OLD Trump.”

-Couple, same location; Woman: “I think it is a good thing. Some day, people will remember who was our President then, you know, when the country turned 250 years old.” Man: “Far as I’m concerned, he deserves it. He’s done a lot for our country, making it Number One again!”

-Young woman and children in front of the Fennville grocery store: “It doesn’t make no matter to me. I’m going to get some unused bills to keep for the kids for keep sakes.”

-Younger man in front of the Blue Goose, “Hasn’t he got anything better to do? You know, like ending this) (&-up war in Iran or getting the TSA situation fixed, or the cost of gas? Now, he wants to have his name on all the money. He is one)(&^up dude.”

-Man in front of the Huntington Bank in Allegan: “Yeah, I heard. I’m going to refuse taking anything with his signature on it.”

-Friend with him: “Yeah? I told my wife that I’ll take ‘em, ‘cause otherwise it only messes up the clerks, but hold on to them to change ‘em at the bank. I don’t want them.”

-Woman in front of the Allegan Public Library: “What difference does it make? I can’t do anything about it. Maybe they’ll become valuable someday. I don’t know.”

-Another woman, same location; Shakes her head. “He’s more of a two-year-old than a grown person, much less a president. He always thinks he gets to have his way - on everything.”

-Man near A-Tech: “I got bigger things to be concerned about than him and his silly antics.”

-Older man near the Allegan Post Office: “I thought there’s a law a person has to be dead for five years before their picture can be on a stamp. That’s what I was told, anyway. There’s no law stopping him from having his name on money.”

-A friend with him: “My wife said it’s too bad he didn’t want to have his face stamped onto a penny.”

-First man: “He cancelled the penny, you know.”

-Second man: “That’s why she thinks he should have his picture on it.” Both laugh.

Felt Mansion in Laketown Township announces acts for free summer concerts

The stage has been set for summer nights in Laketown Township at the Felt Estate’s 2026 concert series.

The free Thursdays at the Felt concerts are July 2, 9, 16, 23 and 30 at the Carriage House, 6597 138th Ave., in view of the historic Felt Mansion. Gates open at 5:30 p.m. Food and drink service begins at 6 p.m. Music begins at 7 p.m.

“This concert series is truly one of my favorite traditions at the Felt. There’s something special about seeing families and neighbors gather on the lawn, enjoying music together,” said Elizabeth McEwen, executive director of the Felt Estate.

The performers

The series begins July 2 with the Blue Water Ramblers who write their own songs and sing traditional music with modern themes -- the songs of Michigan, America and life. The group’s repertoire comes from Michigan life experiences and the history of the Great Lakes.

On July 9, the band 6 Pak will perform. The high energy, all female rock ’n’ roll band plays a variety of music from the 1960s, 1970s and more.

On July 16, Zion Lion, a band from the Kalamazoo area, performs a mix of reggae, African zouk, mucosa, soukous and some Afro-Latin influences.

On July 23, Lighting Matches, an alternative rock band based in Grand Rapids, brings driving guitar riffs and harmonies.

On July 30, Michigan native Kari Lynch returns to the Felt stage with her unique blend of Americana, pop-rock, alternative and singer-songwriter influences. Lynch recorded official music video for “Sleeping Just Fine” at The Felt Estate.

Salute to Cannabis: A Growing Industry in Allegan County

In recent years, cannabis has become an increasingly visible part of Michigan’s economic and regulatory landscape. As policies have evolved, so too has the presence of licensed businesses operating within communities across Allegan County. Today, cannabis is part of a broader conversation about agriculture, small business development, and responsible local oversight.

For many communities, the industry represents new opportunities. Licensed growers, processors, and retailers contribute to local economies by creating jobs, investing in property, and generating tax revenue that can support public services such as infrastructure, public safety, and community programs. Like other emerging industries, it continues to develop under a framework designed to ensure safety, accountability, and compliance with state and local regulations.

The individuals working within this field come from a wide range of backgrounds, including agriculture, manufacturing, retail, and logistics. Their work reflects many of the same principles found across other local industries, including attention to detail, adherence to strict guidelines, and a commitment to operating responsibly within the community. As with any business, success depends on professionalism, consistency, and trust.

April 20, often referred to as “4/20,” has become widely recognized as a cultural marker associated with cannabis. In recent years, it has also taken on a more mainstream presence, with businesses and communities approaching the day in a measured and regulated manner. For many, it serves as a point of reflection on how the industry has evolved and how it fits into today’s legal and economic landscape.

As Allegan County continues to grow and adapt, industries both traditional and new contribute to its overall strength. The cannabis sector represents one of many areas where change has brought new conversations and opportunities, while also reinforcing the importance of thoughtful local decision-making and community standards.

At Allegan County News, Commercial Record, and Union Enterprise, we recognize the role that emerging industries can play in shaping the future of our communities. Today, we salute the cannabis industry as part of that evolving landscape, and the individuals who work within it to operate responsibly and contribute to the local economy.

Graafschap Fire Department achieves Premier Blood Partner status

Graafschap Fire Department has been recognized by the American Red Cross as one of its Premier Blood Partners for 2026 for its support of the community and national blood supply.

Last year, Graafschap Fire Department helped the Red Cross collect 215 blood donations as part of its deep-rooted commitment to help save the lives of patients facing illnesses and injuries in this community and across the country.

“Graafschap Fire Department is proud to be a part of the Red Cross mission that helps ensure lifesaving blood is available for hospital patients in need,” said Capt. Dave Grumney at Graafschap Fire Department. “Our organization shares that same humanitarian value to help our neighbors, and we are grateful for the opportunity to host blood drives that will do just that here in our community.”

The Premier Blood Partners program is for top blood drive partners and offers recognition to the highest contributing sponsors, according to the Red Cross website.

Every day, volunteer blood and platelet donors across the country are needed to help save lives. Blood and platelets are needed for accident and burn victims, heart surgery and organ transplant patients, and those receiving treatment for leukemia, cancer or sickle cell disease, according to the Red Cross.

Graafschap Fire Department started hosting blood drives in 2023.

Next blood drive

Graafschap Fire Department will host a Red Cross blood drive on May 28 from 10 a.m. to 4 p.m. at the fire station, 4534 60th St. Community members are urged to come out and roll up a sleeve.

“Blood donations are essential to the health of our community. We encourage those who can join us to give the gift of life. The donation process only takes about an hour and can make an enormous difference for a patient battling illness or injury,” said Grumney.

To schedule an appointment to donate blood at The Graafschap Fire Department, visit RedCrossBlood.org and under “Find a Blood Drive,” enter “49423” and scroll to May 28, or call 1-800-RED-CROSS (1-800-733-2767).

Donors of all blood types are needed. Blood is a perishable product that can only come from volunteer blood donors.

About the department

Graafschap Fire Department responds to fire, medical and other emergency situations in all of Laketown Township and part of Fillmore Township, and assists other agencies as needed.

The department also takes a proactive approach to prevention, offering free home safety inspections, free blood pressure checks on Wednesdays from 10 a.m. to noon at the firehouse, 4534 60th St., and blood drives as part of its Community Risk Reduction Program.

Community Risk Reduction Program efforts totaled 154 hours in 2025 and included school visits, smoke alarm installations, weekly blood pressure screenings, home safety audits, CPR classes, and business pre-plans.

Wayland Road Work Approved

By Joseph Schultz

Last Monday night, the Wayland City Council reviewed bids for cold milling and paving projects on several well-traveled roads within the city. A-1 Asphalt and Black Gold Transport both submitted bids for the work.

The Main Street project involves milling and paving from south of Superior Street to Sycamore Street. Work on Superior Street will take place east of Main Street to Forrest Street. Additionally, Reno Drive will be patched from south of Superior to 133rd Avenue.

The decision to patch Reno Drive, rather than fully pave it, was made because of extensive road work already planned for the intersection of Reno and Superior next year. Patchwork will also be performed at the intersection of Main and Maple Streets.

The City Council approved A-1 Asphalt’s bid of $268,000. While there is no official start date yet, the council was informed that A-1 expects to complete the entire project within one week.

Karate academy celebrates 25 years of faith, discipline, and community impact

By Gari Voss & Geoffrey Spohn

Twenty-five years ago, a small martial arts program opened its doors in Allegan with a simple purpose: to teach, to serve, and to give something back. This year, the West Michigan Karate Academy is celebrating 25 years of serving the community through a unique blend of martial arts training, Christian ministry, and accessible instruction for families across the Allegan area.

Founded in April 2001 by Hanshi Geoffrey R. Spohn, the academy teaches Tatsu Te Ryū Karate-Dō, a modern blended martial arts system rooted in practical self-defense, personal discipline, and spiritual growth. What began as a local outreach did not remain local, and became a system. It became a ministry and over time, it became a legacy that now reaches across states and into other countries, while still operating out of the same community where it began.

“Twenty-five years is a big deal,” said founder Hanshi (Kaiso) Geoffrey R. Spohn. “That doesn’t happen unless something real is being built and people believe in it enough to carry it forward.”

The foundation for those 25 years was laid long before the academy ever opened. Spohn’s journey began in 1982 at just four years old. In 1988, after the loss of both of his parents, he and his brothers were taken in by their grandparents, June and Harry Smith of Allegan, and his life took its most defining turn. These two individuals’ influence would shape not only who he became, but what he would one day create.

His grandmother, June, instilled in him a deep Christian faith; one rooted in compassion, resilience, and a belief that strength comes through God. His grandfather, Harry, a military veteran and former Allegan County sheriff, instilled discipline, structure, and a lifelong example of service to others. Those two influences did not compete. They combined.

“For 25 years, I’ve run this program out of respect for what my grandparents gave me,” Spohn said. “My grandmother gave me faith. My grandfather gave me service. This is where those two things meet.”

In honor of his grandfather, Spohn chose a path of public service, spending the past decade with the Allegan County Sheriff’s Office, first as a Community Service Officer and now as an Administrative Specialist. It is not a role he uses to elevate himself, but one he views as a continuation of his grandfather’s legacy.

In honor of his grandmother, he pursued ministry, becoming a licensed Christian minister and earning a bachelor’s degree in Christian Education.

By April of 2001, those two callings had merged into a single purpose. The West Michigan Karate Academy, from its inception, was never designed to be just a martial arts Celebrating the achievement of the Black Belt is important. Ashton Young (left) and Connor Valenti (right) are with Hanshi Spohn to receive their black belts of Tatsu Te Ryu Karate-Do. school. It was created as a Christian outreach through martial arts, a place where training the body and strengthening the spirit would exist side by side.

At the center of that mission is Tatsu Te Ryū Karate-Dō, a modern blended system developed by Spohn through decades of study and training. Drawing from Karate, Taekwondo, Aikido, and additional disciplines, the system was designed to address a common limitation found in many martial arts, that practitioners often become highly effective in one range of combat, but limited in others.

Tatsu Te Ryū Karate-Dō was built to bridge those gaps. It incorporates striking, blocking, and close-range engagement, allowing students to function across distances rather than within a single specialization. The goal is not aggression, but preparedness, developing the ability to protect oneself while maintaining control and discipline.

“Martial arts aren’t meant to harm people,” Spohn said. “They’re meant to protect the learned and keep peace where it can be kept.”

What distinguishes the system most, however, is not only its technical design but its spiritual foundation. Unlike many martial arts systems that incorporate Eastern religious philosophies, Tatsu Te Ryū Karate-Dō was intentionally structured around Christian theology. Scripture is not separate from the training. It is integrated into it.

Students progress through a 12-belt system representing the 12 disciples of Jesus Christ, with each level carrying both a physical milestone and a spiritual meaning tied to scripture. The journey begins with the White Belt, representing purity and new life, inspired by Genesis 1:27. From there, students advance through Yellow (Romans 8:38–39), Purple (1 Peter 2:9), Green (Genesis 1:12), Blue (Acts 7:49), and Brown (John 3:16), each reinforcing growth in faith alongside skill. The final stages, Red and Black, carry deeper meaning, symbolizing Christ’s sacrifice and the solemn weight of the crucifixion.

The progression reflects a journey: From purity and new life; To growth and identity; To understanding and purpose; And ultimately to sacrifice, commitment, and responsibility.

At the center of that journey is a foundational verse: “I am the light of the world. Whoever follows me will not walk in darkness but will have the light of life.” - John 8:12

Within the academy, that message is not simply discussed, it is practiced, reinforced, and lived. That integration of faith and discipline becomes most visible in one of the system’s most distinctive elements its Bible Kata.

These forms take traditional martial arts patterns and combine them with the spoken word of scripture. Students move through structured techniques while reciting passages such as Psalm 23, the Lord’s Prayer, and the Armor of God.

In doing so, training becomes more than repetition. It becomes reflection. It becomes meditation. It becomes a connection between movement and meaning.

More than one-third of the system’s curriculum consists of these original forms developed by Spohn over time as both the system and its purpose matured. Over the course of 25 years, that purpose has expanded in ways that reach far beyond Allegan.

Students who trained within the academy do not simply remain students. They become instructors. Those instructors have gone on to establish their own programs, carrying the system into new communities across multiple states including Michigan, Kentucky, Illinois, Nebraska, Florida, Alabama, New Mexico, and Maine. All of it traces back to one origin point. One program. One beginning.

“I lit the first flame,” Spohn said. “Others took that flame and lit their own candles.”

That continuation more than any statistic is what defines 25 years. Along the way, that work has been recognized at the national and international level.

Spohn has been inducted into multiple halls of honor, including recognition for lifetime contribution to the martial arts, as well as honors such as Master of the Year, Instructor of the Year, and System Founder of the Year. Yet even with that recognition, the academy’s purpose has remained unchanged.

The West Michigan Karate Academy operates on an annual tuition of just $60 per year, approximately five dollars per month.

In a time when martial arts training is often financially out of reach, that number stands as something almost unheard of and it is intentional.

“My grandparents struggled to keep me in martial arts,” Spohn said. “I made the decision that if someone wants to train, they can train. No barriers.”

That commitment has allowed individuals, families, and at-risk youth to step onto the mat many for the first time without financial limitation.

It is one of the defining reasons the academy has endured for 25 years. That mission is supported through the academy’s partnership with Allegan Bible Church and Pastor Jon Gruss, whose continued support provides a home for the program. Without that foundation, Spohn acknowledges, the academy would not exist as it does today.

Yet, even after a quarter century, there are still members of the community who are just now learning it exists. Not because it has not been present, but because it has never sought the spotlight. For 25 years, it has as Spohn said, “We’ve simply done the work.”

“Now, that milestone offers an opportunity to say something clearly,” stresses Spohn. “The West Michigan Karate Academy is here. It has been here for 25 years. It has built something that has spread across states and into other countries. It has shaped students, created instructors, and remained grounded in faith, discipline, and service and is still open.

The academy offers year-round programming with open enrollment. Classes are held Tuesdays and Thursdays from 5:30-6:30 p.m.

Those interested can find the academy on Facebook, visit www.westmichigankarate.com, or call (269) 685-7806 for more information.

After 25 years, the accomplishment speaks for itself. But the purpose remains unchanged.

“If someone didn’t know we were here before,” Spohn said, “Now they do, and we welcome them with open hearts, open minds, and open doors.”

Book Review: How to Be Okay When Nothing is Okay

So what are you gonna do next?
You can't decide. There are so many choices and you know you're going to pick the wrong one. That's the problem, you never do anything right and you don't know what to do next. So here: take a deep breath, take another, read "How to Be Okay When Nothing is Okay" by Jenny Lawson, and hit "reset."

As someone who's always been open about her mental health issues, depression, ADHD and anxiety, Jenny Lawson has purposefully collected bits of advice to help her keep her head and her heart on-track throughout her adult life. That random guidance has gotten her through a lot of days, and she shares it in this book.

First of all, remember that we're all weird in one way or another. You're not alone.

Forget people who rain on your parade; if there's something you enjoy doing and it's not hurting anyone, just do it, even if it's "childish." Know that learning to love your flaws is something magical, and humorously admitting them can be truly priceless.

Keep a list of things that make you happy. Add to it, revise it, but keep it close; if you don't know where to start, look at Lawson's list for ideas.

Remember that everybody deserves applause, and that includes you.

Make a playlist of the music that makes you want to dance – and then dance. Keep in mind that "Depression lies" and that you are always and forever "worthwhile." Give yourself permission to take solitary breaks now and then. If you're feeling overwhelmed, do something that's easy to accomplish. Teach others to help you by helping yourself. Revive your creativity by trying something new.

Never be afraid to ask for help, even if it's just having someone listen awhile. Prioritize sleep. Explore using color noises to help you focus or chill.

And know that rules are often optional, so just be you.

We've all had them: a whole week's worth of One of Those Days, where everything turns south and you just want to go to bed for life. You need a reset. That's when you need "How to Be Okay When Nothing is Okay."

From comfort and self-care to mood-boosts to confidence generators, author Jenny Lawson offers advice for anyone with any kind of mindset. Doubts are sent packing with this book. Self-flagellation can turn into a pat on the back here. And the theme, over and over, is that you're not alone and that you can find help - which is underscored, even if you already know it to your core. Lawson hammers it home, along with all the right things to say, plus well-placed profanity, camaraderie, and plenty of her signature humor.

This book is the perfect size to tuck in your desk drawer, your lunchbox, briefcase, or glove box. It's helpful, funny, and easily browse-able, so if your mental health isn't so healthy today, find "How to Be Okay When Nothing is Okay." Look over your TBR pile, and make it next.

MPA offers reasons why legal should stay in newspapers

LANSING — As attacks continue on public and legal notice requirements in Michigan, the Michigan Press Association (MPA) is highlighting the importance of these requirements to keeping the public informed about how government actions could impact their rights, property taxes, quality of life and finances.

The MPA continues to call on Michigan's elected leaders to halt ongoing efforts that could remove requirements for governments and other public institutions to publish important information about decision-making in newspapers through public and legal notices. These requirements play a critical role in helping Michiganders learn about and weigh in on important tax proposals, zoning changes, news ordinances, proposed property developments and more.

"Public and legal notices are critical to an informed and engaged public," said

Brad Thompson of the Detroit Legal News and co-chair of the MPA Public Policy Committee. "We continue to urge Michigan lawmakers on both sides of the aisle to protect these foundational transparency measures that play a critical role in helping Michigan citizens access information and make informed decisions that best reflect their values, beliefs and budgets."

Efforts to remove public notice requirements are widely criticized by government transparency groups and others as a means for elected officials to obscure their actions from the public. These requirements are essential in a healthy democracy where elected officials act in the public's interest rather than for personal or political gain.

"Our lawmakers should focus on improving transparency, not finding ways to hide their actions from public view," said Jim Tarrant, executive director of the Public Notice Resource Center. "Legal notices help inform Michiganders about actions that could impact their rights, property and finances so they have an opportunity to learn more, object or appeal decisions and hold officials accountable."

Publishing legal notices in newspapers informs Michiganders about actions that can impact them like government court decisions, including property foreclosures, to help ensure transparency and accountability.

Newspapers are widely accessible and create a record of notices that helps ensure legal procedures are followed. This can also protect residents from scams and fraud that could cause long-term financial damage, identity theft and legal complications.

Learn more about the importance of public and legal notices on the Michigan Press Association website.

USDA approves disaster relief for county farmers

Farmers and ranchers in 17 Michigan counties impacted by one of three triggering events in 2025 are now eligible to apply for emergency loan relief from the USDA.

Three different triggering events, involving drought, excessive heat and a frost/freeze event led to the counties receiving secretarial natural disaster designations, the organization announced this past week.

The designation allows the USDA Farm Service Agency to extend emergency assistance farmers and ranchers recovering from natural disasters in those counties through emergency loans.

The low-interest loans can be used to cover production losses, equipment or livestock replacement or for debt refinancing.

The FSA will review all loans based on the extent of losses, security available and repayment ability.

Application deadlines to apply for relief for each of the three following triggering disasters is Oct. 13.

Disaster 1: Those impacted by drought from Dec. 3, 2024 through Dec.

31, 2025 in the primary counties of Kent and Midland.

Contiguous counties also eligible include Allegan.

Disaster 2: Those impacted by frost and freeze from May 8 through 10, 2025 in the primary counties of Allegan and Kent.

Disaster 3: Those impacted by drought and excessive heat between May 13 and Aug. 22 2025 in the primary counties of Allegan and Kent.

Girls Track Season Preview:

By JASON WESSELDYK
SPORTS EDITOR

ALLEGAN
Coach: Mike Chalupa
Returning letter winners: Anna Billman, soph. (distance); Aylah Copeland, jr. (sprints, relays); Eliza DeLaet, sr. (throws, pole vault, sprints); Bailee Dilley, sr. (pole vault, long jump, sprints); Nevaeh Williams, jr. (sprints, relays, long jump); Jayden VandenAkker, sr. (hurdles, sprints, high jump).
Top newcomers: Alyx Falor, fr. (sprints, hurdles); Ireland Dewey, jr. (sprints); Bridget McKinley, sr.
Season outlook:
With improved numbers and a mix of experienced returners and new faces, Allegan enters the 2026 season looking to build depth while continuing to compete across the board.

“We have better numbers than we have seen in recent years, so it is nice to have a mixture of veterans and new faces,” coach Mike Chalupa said. “The group is upbeat, energetic and hard-working.”
Leading the way will be a pair of senior standouts in Bailee Dilley and Jayden VandenAkker, both of whom have already turned in strong early-season performances. “Looking forward to what the outdoor season has in store for Bailee and Jayden,” Chalupa said.
Dilley has already made history this spring, breaking Allegan’s 16-year-old pole vault record with a clearance of 11 feet, 1 inch. VandenAkker also returns after an All-State performance last season, finishing runner-up in the 100-meter hurdles.

As a team, the focus remains on growth and creating positive experiences for athletes at all levels.
“As always, we are looking for opportunities for our athletes to have a positive experience, show growth and compete at all levels,” Chalupa said.
Depth and experience remain areas the Tigers are looking to continue to build. “Looking to continue to build numbers and get athletes involved,” Chalupa said.
At the conference level, Allegan expects Dilley and VandenAkker to be among the top competitors, while the team continues to develop around them.
The Tigers finished 3-8 in conference meets last season and will look to take a step forward as the season progresses.

FENNVILLE
Coach: Josh Sliter
Returning letter winners: Isabelle Sliter, jr. (800, 1,600, 3,200); Sanija Ballman, jr. (100 hurdles, 100).
Top newcomers: Macy Samp, fr. (pole vault, sprints).
Season outlook:
Fennville enters the 2026 season focused on development, with an emphasis on growth at each meet and building toward the future.
“Looking to see growth at each track meet,” coach Josh Sliter said.
Leading the way will be junior Isabelle Sliter, a two-time state qualifier in the 1,600-meter run who is aiming to return to the state finals while also expanding her impact.
“We expect Isabelle to be another repeat state qualifier in the 1,600,” Coach Sliter said. “She is also setting her sights on qualifying in the 3,200 this season.”
Freshman Macy Samp is another athlete to watch, particularly in the pole vault, where she is already closing in on a state-qualifying mark after clearing 9 feet last season. Samp has also shown early promise in the sprints.
“She has the potential of qualifying for state in the pole vault and possibly in the 100 and 200 as well,” Coach Sliter said.
With limited numbers, staying healthy will be a key factor for the Blackhawks throughout the season.
“We started out with under 10 girls and are already down a couple due to injuries,” Coach Sliter said. “Keeping the girls we have healthy is going to be important.”
As a result, Fennville will lean heavily on individual performances rather than team scoring.

“Sometimes just being able to fill events and place is all you need,” Coach Sliter said. “We are hoping to finish a little bit higher in the conference standings this season.”
Now in his second season leading the program, Josh Sliter continues to focus on long-term growth while helping his athletes develop into well-rounded competitors.
“Our goal every season is to produce solid, well-rounded athletes,” he said

HOPKINS
Coach: Philip Moerdyke
Returning letter winners: Sophia Baker, jr. (100 hurdles, 300 hurdles, high jump); Keilah Bonga, jr. (shot put, discus); Andrea Brower, jr. (100 hurdles, 300 hurdles, 4x400); Lillian Dewey, jr. (800, 1,600, 3,200); Megan Bowser, soph. (200, 400); Chloe Evans, soph. (200, 400, long jump); Riley Homrich, sr. (100, 200, relays); Claire Fifeleski, soph. Boys Golf Season Preview:

ALLEGAN
As the spring season gets underway, the Allegan boys golf team is focused on building consistency, strengthening team chemistry and competing with any opponent it faces.
The Tigers return a mix of experienced players and developing talent as they look to make a push in conference play and into the postseason.
Leading the way is a senior-heavy group that includes Logan Glave, Nolan Richmond, Noah Greig, Owen Krutloff and Dylan Holtsclaw. Junior Noah Kuebler also returns, along with sophomores Kaden Thomas and Austin Schallhorn.
That core will be counted on to set the tone while helping bring along a pair of newcomers in sophomore Brady Pinnell and freshman Ayden Church.
“With a mix of experienced returning players, we hope they can bring strong play and motivate our promising newcomers to find their rhythm and succeed throughout the season,” Allegan coach Ken Bronkema said.
Allegan enters the season with an emphasis on lowering scores and maintaining a steady mindset throughout each round.

“With a steady mindset and true commitment, this team hopes to conquer school records, medal at tournaments and achieve personal goals, one swing at a time,” Bronkema said.
Bronkema, who also serves as the girls varsity golf coach, leads the program alongside assistant Zoe Bronkema and Allegan alum Justin Nahikian.
The coaching staff is focused not only on results, but also on the growth of the players both on and off the course.
“This group is focused not only on winning matches, but also building discipline, teamwork and confidence with every round they play,” Bronkema said.

HAMILTON
After graduating a large portion of last year’s lineup, Hamilton’s boys golf team will rely on a mix of returning experience and developing talent as it looks to grow throughout the season.
“This season resembles a rebuilding year,” coach Brooke Pulling said. “We lost five top players to graduation last year, but we have two key returners.”
Leading the way are senior Dominic Schipper and junior Weston Meiste, who will anchor a lineup that also features several newcomers expected to make an impact, including junior Colin Vork and sophomores Brendan Hansen and Colin Johr.

“Our newcomers will be a great asset to our varsity team,” Pulling said. “They bring a lot of natural talent and drive to improve their game.”
With a relatively inexperienced roster, Hamilton’s focus will be on steady improvement and developing consistency, both physically and mentally.
“My goal for this season is to focus on growth as a team and making smart moves on the course,” Pulling said. “Can we stay composed after a mishit or high-scoring hole?”
That mental approach is something the Hawkeyes have emphasized early on.
“Consistency is key,” Pulling said. “We’re currently working on our mental game and staying strong in the toughest situations.”
While experience may be a challenge, Pulling said the team’s work ethic has stood out.
“Our strength as a team is our willingness to put in the work at practices,” she said. “This group of players is ready to compete.”
Hamilton finished sixth in the conference and eighth at regionals a year ago, and Pulling is hopeful the team can improve those marks this spring.
“I’d love to see Hamilton land in the middle or top half of the conference,” she said. “With the right amount of skill, focus and confidence, we can get there.”

OTSEGO—The Otsego girls tennis team turned in a strong performance Monday, April 13, sweeping Three Rivers 7-0 in Wolverine Conference action.
The Bulldogs took control early by winning all four singles flights in straight sets.
At No. 1 singles, Hailey Burd led the way with a 6-0, 6-3 victory over Jayna Larson. Ellie Korringa followed with a 6-0, 6-0 win at No. 2 singles, while Lydia Griffith claimed a 6-1, 6-1 decision at No. 3.
Alie Bronson completed the singles sweep with a 6-2, 6-0 victory at the No. 4 spot.
Otsego continued its strong play in doubles, picking up wins at the first three flights.

At No. 1 doubles, Sara McCaw and Stella Houseman earned a 6-1, 6-1 victory.

Hope Stender and Mila Garrett followed with a 6-3, 6-2 win at No. 2, while Rachel Breese and Laney Sweet secured a 6-4, 6-1 decision at No. 3.

Saugatuck soccer earns tie against Niles

SAUGATUCK—Following a hiatus of more than two weeks, the Saugatuck girls soccer team returned from spring break to host Niles on Monday, April 13.
And while the game was stopped early due to lightning, Trailblazers coach Neal Phillips liked what he saw from this team.
The game ended in a scoreless tie, bringing Saugatuck’s record to 2-2-1.
“Niles is a much bigger school than us, so for us to be able to tie them says a lot about our girls,” Phillips said. “It was a great team effort from everybody.”
Phillips was especially pleased with the effort of junior goalie Ginny Cerneugel, who finished with 16 saves to secure the shutout.
“Ginny kept us in the hunt,” Phillips said.
The Trailblazers were scheduled to travel to Constantine on Wednesday, April 15, before returning home to host South Haven on Monday, April 20.

HOPKINS
With a veteran group returning, the Hopkins boys golf team is looking to take a step forward in the OK Silver this season.
“Our team goal is to finish in the top three of our league,” coach William Spoelhof said.
Leading the way for the Vikings is a senior-heavy lineup that includes returning letter winners Trevor Anderson, Abe Krussell, Henry Teunissen, Hendrick Reurink, Seth Marshall and Blake Hyma.
That experience should help provide both leadership and stability throughout the season.
“Our strengths will be our consistency around the green,” Spoelhof said.
Hopkins will also look for contributions from junior Gavin Baugh, who is expected to make an immediate impact as the team’s top newcomer.
The Vikings are coming off a fourth-place finish in the conference a year ago and will look to climb the standings in what Spoelhof expects to be a competitive league race.
“NorthPointe Christian and Calvin Christian are usually the top contenders for the league title,” he said.
Now in his 18th season leading the program, Spoelhof is optimistic about what this group can accomplish.
“We are excited to see how this team performs,” he said. “We should see some exciting golf from this team.”
With a strong returning core and a focus on steady, consistent play, Hopkins will look to position itself among the top teams in the conference this spring.

OTSEGO
After a season of success a year ago, the Otsego boys golf program enters 2026 facing both change and opportunity.
The Bulldogs graduated Wolverine Conference Player of the Year Spencer Shearer along with three other All-Conference golfers, and longtime coach Matt Rayman has retired after more than two decades leading the program.
Despite those losses, Otsego is not approaching the season as a rebuild.
Leading the way are returning All-Conference golfers Karson Holladay, a senior, and junior Owen Santman, both of whom are expected to be among the top players in the Wolverine Conference.
With that foundation in place, first-year head coach Michael Miller believes the team can remain competitive.
“Our goals this year look very similar to what they’ve been in years past,” Miller said. “We want to compete for the conference title, be competitive in every tournament and qualify for the state finals.”
Otsego will also rely on a group of players stepping into larger roles. Seniors Kole Engleright and juniors Kal-El Leonard and Roman Busscher have waited their turn and are expected to contribute, while freshman Cooper Mejeur has already made an impression with his tournament experience.
That mix has created strong competition for lineup spots.
“Beyond our top group, we have several athletes pushing for positions, which gives us depth and internal competition,” Miller said.

Experience at the top of the lineup is a clear strength, though the middle of the lineup will continue to develop.
“Our one- and two-seeds are proven scorers who bring consistency and leadership,” Miller said. “The 3-6 spots are less experienced, but we’re confident they will grow as the season progresses.”
In the conference race, Otsego expects plenty of competition.
“Vicksburg returns a strong group, Edwardsburg has experience, and Plainwell should be very competitive,” Miller said. “There are several teams capable of being in the mix.”
Otsego is coming off a Wolverine Conference championship season and will look to defend that title while also pursuing a return trip to the state finals.
Miller, who takes over after serving as an assistant under Rayman, brings a strong track record after leading the girls program to back-to-back conference and regional titles along with consecutive state finals appearances.
With proven leadership at the top of the lineup and a group eager to step into bigger roles, the Bulldogs will look to remain among the conference’s top teams this spring.

PLAINWELL
Plainwell enters the season with its sights set on contending in the Wolverine Conference behind a strong returning group led by senior Drew Rayman.
“We will compete for the Wolverine Conference championship,” said coach Scott Cool, who returns to lead the program after taking last season off.
Rayman is coming off a top-10 finish at the Division 2 State Finals and averaged 36.5 in league play last year.
“We have the top player in the conference in Drew Rayman,” Cool said. “I expect him to have an even lower average this year.”
He is joined by a solid group of returning contributors, including seniors Gibby Youngs and Reece Trahan, junior Sawyer McCall and sophomore Cam Larsen — a group Cool believes could make a strong impact.
“Drew, Sawyer, Gibby, Reece and Cam all have a shot to be all-conference,” he said. “If they all make the Wolverine top 12, that should bode well for us.”
Plainwell also welcomes a group of newcomers, including freshmen Easton Morrow and Preston Gunderson along with sophomores Gibson Pettit and Logan Gabala.

While the Trojans have plenty of talent, experience could be a factor early in the season.
“We have a talented team, although we are a bit lacking in experience,” Cool said. “Some of our guys need more matches, and they will gain confidence as the season goes on.”
The Wolverine Conference figures to be competitive once again.
“Vicksburg, Otsego and Edwardsburg are also very good teams,” Cool said. “Any one of these four schools could win the conference.”
Early results have been encouraging, particularly from Rayman, who has already posted strong scores in the opening jamborees.

SAUGATUCK
After a historic season a year ago, the expectations remain high for the Saugatuck boys golf team.
“Our goals this year look very similar to what they’ve been in years past,” coach Brian Ward said. “Our expectation for this year is the exact same.”
That’s a lofty standard considering what the Trailblazers accomplished in 2025, going undefeated in conference play, winning all seven Lakeshore jamborees, capturing a regional title and finishing eighth at the Division 4 state finals.
And while Saugatuck moves up to Division 3 this season, Ward believes his team has the pieces in place to once again compete at a high level.

“I still think we have a great chance to place top three at our regional and make it to the state finals for a fourth year in a row,” he said.
Leading the way will be a veteran group that returns nearly intact from last season’s squad. That includes seniors Nick Mohr and Noah Conklin along with junior Walt Bos and sophomores Grant Schrottenboer and Macky Larue.
“We’ve got almost our entire team returning,” Ward said. “That gives us a lot of experience that should serve us well throughout the season.”
Newcomers Lance Oczeppek, a junior, and sophomore Charlie Lanning will look to add depth to an already experienced lineup.
In the conference race, Ward expects South Haven to provide the biggest challenge.
“I think South Haven will be our biggest competition,” he said. “But I like our chances given our depth and experience.”
Ward is entering his 11th season as the varsity coach and 14th overall with the program.

WAYLAND
With a new head coach bringing decades of collegiate experience, the Wayland boys golf team enters the season focused on growth and development.
Allen Curtiss, in his first year leading the Wildcats, spent 36 years coaching golf and football at the college level, including helping guide teams to conference championships and earning 2015 GMAC Men’s Coach of the Year honors.

“This will be a season of growing for our team,” Curtiss said. “We have a new coaching staff and a large portion of our players who don’t have a great deal of varsity experience. With that being said, we have blended great.”
Wayland returns a group that includes seniors Jaden Osterhout and Shane Koon, junior Brayden Calkins and sophomore Hustler Sok, while juniors Carson Sipkema and Nick Winchel are among those expected to contribute.
Curtiss said the focus will be on steady improvement both on and off the course.
“Our goals and expectations are and always will be to win on the course and in the classroom,” he said. “Our focus, though, is to improve and learn every time we are on the course.”
The Wildcats have shown some early strengths, particularly off the tee.
“Our strength is our ability to hit the ball long,” Curtiss said. “Our weakness is knowing when to use it and when to back off and manage the course.”
Curtiss believes Wayland has the potential to be competitive in the OK Gold Conference.
“From what I have seen so far, I believe we can be in the top tier,” he said. “The top dog I think is South Christian.”
As the program adjusts to a new coaching staff and approach, Curtiss said the emphasis will be on long-term development.
“We are different,” he said. “We are developing our players in the same way I have at the collegiate level to grow and be successful.”

Kaylee Katje, jr. (1,600, 3,200); Annika Ford, soph. (sprints, relays); Grace Schumacher, sr. (800, 1,600); Peyton Harshberger, soph. (high jump, mid-distance); MacKenzie Huff, soph. (sprints); Elliot VanderVeen, jr. (sprints, 400); Mari Mitchell, soph. (throws); Tuesday Stevens, soph. (800, 1,600); Jenessa Tripp, soph. (jumps).

Top newcomers: Lily Benting, fr. (sprints, relays); Taylie Burgess, fr. (sprints, long jump); Bella Jordan, fr. (distance); Adeline Mains, fr. (throws).

Season outlook: After back-to-back dominant seasons in the OK Silver, Hopkins enters 2026 looking to continue that success.

“Our ladies team is hoping to continue our success in the conference,” coach Philip Moerdyke said. “Over the last two years, they have gone undefeated in conference matchups and won the conference meet.”

Despite graduating several key contributors, the Vikings return a strong core and welcome a large group of newcomers, giving them both depth and versatility.

“This year still looks incredibly bright,” Moerdyke said. “We have a large team with some new freshman and sophomore talent.”

Hopkins’ strength lies in its ability to score across multiple events, led by standout performers in sprints, distance and field events.

Senior Riley Homrich leads the sprint group after qualifying for the state finals each of the past three seasons, while junior Lillian Dewey anchors the distance crew. In the field events, Keilah Bonga returns as a state qualifier in the throws, and the Vikings feature depth in the jumping events as well.

“We have some strong runners and excellent field event athletes, which should give us an opportunity to score in most events,” Moerdyke said.

Developing depth in mid-distance events and pole vault will be a focus as the season progresses.

“We graduated a slew of mid-distance runners last year, so we are developing athletes to step into those roles,” Moerdyke said.

In the conference race, Hopkins once again expects to be in the mix near the top.

“With the talent we currently have, we are shooting to be top two in the conference,” Moerdyke said. “Belding is always in the mix, and Fruitport’s numbers are up.”

The Vikings went 7-0 in conference dual meets last season and captured the OK

Silver title, while also sending multiple athletes to the Division 2 state finals.

With a blend of experienced returners and emerging talent, Hopkins will look to extend its run of success this spring.

MARTIN

Coaches: Damon and Caryn Blackburn

Returning letter winners: Kyleigh Buell, soph. (sprints, relays); Aliyah DeGlopper, soph. (shot put, discus); Allison Rogers, soph. (distance, relays); Durae Sage, soph. (mid-distance, relays); Veyda Conley, jr. (distance, relays); Sara Schipper, jr. (high jump, relays); Torryn Harris, sr. (sprints, relays).

Season outlook: Martin enters the 2026 season looking to build around a core group of returning athletes while continuing to develop younger contributors.

After graduating several key seniors, the Clippers will be in a rebuilding phase, but still feature athletes capable of competing at a high level.

“We did graduate a number of scoring seniors last year, so there is room for rebuilding,” the Blackburns said. “However, we have added a few upperclassmen new to track to help with that.”

Leading the way is junior Veyda Conley, who turned in an impressive performance at the state finals last season. Conley placed eighth in the 3,200-meter run and 11th in the 1,600, while also setting school records in both events.

She is joined by senior Torryn Harris and junior Sara Schipper, both of whom were part of state-qualifying relay teams and earned multiple regional medals a year ago.

“We hope to send our past state qualifiers back to the state meet with a few more joining them for the first time,” the Blackburns said.

While team depth remains a challenge, Martin continues to find success through individual performances and a strong team culture.

“Our conference is always a tough one, but we do have several individuals who will do well,” the Blackburns said.

That culture has been a defining part of the program, with the Blackburns emphasizing a unified approach between the boys and girls teams.

“We coach and run the boys and girls together as one team, one family,” they said. “Building a cooperative and supportive spirit among all of the athletes is a key component of our program.”

This season will also mark the final year for the Black-burns, who are retiring from teaching and coaching at the end of the year.

Despite the transition ahead, the focus remains on growth and continuing the program’s tradition of individual success at the regional and state levels.

OTSEGO

Coach: Justin Scott

Returning letter winners: Jazmyn Adams (sprints, relays); Skylar Brooks (pole vault, high jump, long jump, relays); Zayla Clark (sprints, high jump); Madden Fitzpatrick (throws, relays); Madeline Goodwin (distance); Audrey Holmes (throws, sprints); Olivia Klimp (hurdles, long jump, relays); Jordan McKague (sprints, relays); Skylar Mejeur (distance); Rylee Norris (hurdles); Ezra Smith (sprints, relays); Rebekah Stachura (distance); Brenna Yocum (distance).

Season outlook: After finishing runner-up in the Wolverine Conference a year ago, Otsego enters the 2026 season with its sights set on returning to the top — even if the path won’t be easy.

“It has been two years since we have been conference champions and we are hoping to get back on top this season,” coach Justin Scott said. “It is going to be a challenge for us.”

That challenge is amplified by the depth across the league.

“Every single team in our conference is filled with talent,” Scott said. “There is not a single team in our conference that, if you told me they would win the league, I wouldn’t be able to believe it.”

While the Bulldogs feature a number of returning contributors, Scott noted that experience is not as deep as in recent seasons.

“This might be the least amount of returning experience that we have had in the last decade,” he said. “We are getting good leadership from our small group of veterans and hopefully they will be able to help us get our young kids ready to go.”

Otsego’s strength should once again be in the distance events, along with the throws.

“We will be very strong in the distance races this season, and we should also score a good amount of points in the throwing events,” Scott said.

Finding production in other areas will be key to the team’s success.

“We will need to find a way to generate points in sprints and jumps,” Scott said.

With a mix of potential and uncertainty, Scott expects the team to evolve as the season progresses.

“We have a lot of potential, but we have a long way yet to go,” he said. “We will need to experiment with line-ups and practice extremely hard, but by the end of the season I think we could be really good.”

The Bulldogs posted a 5-2 dual meet record last season and finished second in both the conference meet and overall standings.

Now in his 14th season, Scott has guided Otsego to seven conference titles and six regional championships, and hopes this group can position itself to add to that list.

SAUGATUCK

Coach: Angelina Bauer (19th season)

Returning letter winners: Alina Martinson, sr. (distance, mid-distance — 400m, 800m, 1,600m, 3,200m, 4x800 relay); Savannah VanDenBerg, sr. (distance, mid-distance — 400m, 800m, 1,600m, 3,200m, 4x800 relay); Novella DeGraaf, jr. (pole vault, long jump, 100m hurdles, 300m hurdles); Lyvia Curtis, jr. (distance, mid-distance — 400m, 800m, 1,600m, 3,200m, 4x800 relay); Kamryn Sixberry, jr. (distance, mid-distance — 400m, 800m, 1,600m, 3,200m, 4x800 relay); Laine Borst, soph. (sprints — 100m, 200m, 400m; hurdles — 100m hurdles); Leora Buss, soph. (pole vault, sprints — 200m; mid-distance — 400m); Kinsley Gries, soph. (throws — discus, shot put; sprints — 100m, 200m)

Top newcomers: Ellyse Heyser, fr. (distance, mid-distance — 400m, 800m, 1,600m, 3,200m, 4x800 relay); Abbey Gorman, fr. (long jump, 200m, 400m); Isabella Ketterer, soph. (100m, 200m, 400m; hurdles — 100m, 300m); Elli Dokianakis, soph. (throws — shot put, discus)

Season Outlook: Even with a relatively small roster, Saugatuck has the pieces in place to be competitive this season.

The Trailblazers return a strong core of experienced athletes, particularly in the distance events, where seniors Alina Martinson and Savannah VanDenBerg headline a deep and talented group. They are joined by juniors Lyvia Curtis and Kamryn Sixberry, giving Saugatuck multiple scoring options across the mid- and long-distance races.

“We are a small team but with enough power to hold our own,” coach Angelina Bauer said. “We hope to compete at the top in our large league and qualify as many athletes as possible for the State Finals.”

That distance group figures to be the team’s biggest strength, but Saugatuck also returns key contributors in other areas. Junior Novella DeGraaf brings versatility in the jumps and hurdles, while sophomores Laine Borst, Leora Buss and Kinsley Gries provide depth across sprints, vault and throws.

At the same time, Bauer noted that the team is still working to find its identity, with a mix of experienced leaders and younger, less experienced athletes.

“We have a core group of veteran girls with strong leadership, but we also are largely new, young and inexperienced,” Bauer said. “We are fairly small, which will make it hard to fill in gaps, but we have a quality core.”

The Trailblazers are also welcoming back a key contributor from injury, which could provide an additional boost as the season progresses.

After finishing second at regionals last year and qualifying nine athletes across eight events for the State Finals, Saugatuck enters the season with high—but measured—expectations.

“I never want to be overconfident, so we are approaching this season with caution and setting high but realistic goals,” Bauer said.

With a strong returning nucleus and a focus on steady improvement, the Trailblazers will look to position themselves among the top teams in a competitive SAC.

“It is hard to know how the season will shake out at this point,” Bauer said. “But we are enjoying living in the moment and putting the pieces together.”

Season outlook: With increased participation and a mix of experienced returners and newcomers, Wayland enters the 2026 season looking to take a step forward under first-year head coach Nikki Hoogewind.

“We have the numbers this season and athletes to fill the spots,” Hoogewind said. “We increased participation this season and will work to build the success of the program.”

The Wildcats will lean on a group of veteran leaders, including senior captain Evie Mathis and junior Megan Brogger, while also expecting strong contributions from seniors Laney Wolf and Ryleigh Haveman.

Wayland’s added depth should allow the team to be more competitive across events, though Hoogewind said there is still room for growth in certain areas.

“We would like to increase the number of field event participants and distance runners,” she said.

Among the newcomers, sophomore Abree VanDenBrink and freshman Jordan Grevenstuk are expected to make an immediate impact, while several other young athletes add depth to the roster.

With that combination of experience and emerging talent, Wayland has set its sights high.

“Looking to compete for the OK Gold Conference championship,” Hoogewind said.

In her first season leading the program, Hoogewind is focused not only on results, but also on long-term development.

“Looking to develop skills, build strong leadership on the team and increase participation,” she said.

If the Wildcats can continue to build depth and consistency, they could position themselves as a contender in the conference race this spring.

PEEK AT THE PAST

From the pages of The Allegan News and The Allegan County News and Gazette:

April 19, 1951

Snow fails to dampen camp out: A light snowfall and bright sunshine fought for position Monday.

But Allegan high school seniors launched their annual week's camp-out in heavy jackets with lots of ambitious plans.

About 50 gathered at Lake Allegan's camp for the five-day program of outdoor living — hikes, trapping, forestry and conservation work.

Under the direction of Hartger Winter, the group is working with state and district conservation experts in special projects.

The first day included a visit to Allegan municipal dam, a tour of old Singapore, the dune-buried village on Lake Michigan, a compass hike and building of brush shelters for partridge and rabbits.

Tuesday, Bill Hummel, predatory game control worker for the state conservation department took the group on a trapping expedition. Others went on forestry trips with Paul Schroeder, district forester, a trip which included building a foot bridge across the Daley bayou.

Area couples to link with wagon train: Six Allegan County riders will link up May 5 with a Bicentennial Wagon Train that is leaving Lansing as part of a national wagon train bound for Valley Forge and a July 4 celebration. Riders John and Jan Hettinger of Allegan, Morrie and Lenore Van Den Berg of Hopkins, and Jim and Linda Commissaris of Allegan will represent the county when the train leaves Lansing and winds its way west thru Battle Creek, Three Rivers and Union — where it links with the Michigan wagon train — and then east thru Coldwater, Litchfield, Cambridge Junction, and into Ohio.

bound for Valley Forge and a rendezvous with several thousand horsepersons.

The county representatives will join part of the ride thru the state, as time and personal schedules permit, and all three couples will join the national train June 26 somewhere in Pennsylvania and ride the remainder of the way to Valley Forge.

"As the official outriders in the wagon train pilgrimage," said Mrs. Hettinger, "our main purpose is to represent the people of Allegan County."

Drozd family brings home corn honors: Area corn growers Jon, Jay and Tom Drozd were recently named state winners in the 2000 National Corn Yield Contest sponsored by the National Corn Growers Association.

Jon and Jay Drozd of Allegan placed third in the state in the Irrigated Class with a yield of 204.6841 bushels per acre. The hybrid planted in the winning field was Pioneer 33A14.

Allegan County Bicentennial Chairman John Walts reads the special wagon train scroll to the six country residents who will link next month with the state and national wagon trains bound for a July 4 celebration at Pennsylvania's Valley Forge. Couples going are, from left, Jim and Linda Commissaris, Morrie and Lenore Van Den Berg, and John and Jan Hettinger.

Tom Drozd of Allegan placed third in the state in the A Non-Irrigated Class with a yield of 205.6816 bushels per acre.

The local growers were three of the 507 state winners from among 3,552 entrants nationwide. The state winners used 159 different hybrids to produce an average yield of 207.5 bushels per acre, up 1.1 bushels from last year's winning yield average. Even the non-winners fared well—only 5.2 bushels separated the average winning yield from the average of all entrants (202.3 bpa).

The high yield was 357.3 bushels per acre, produced by a grower in Manchester, Iowa, who topped the popular contest for the second year in a row.

Weather once again played a significant role in yields that ranged from the winning 357.3 bushels to the lowest national yield of 216.7 bushels per acre.

"It's interesting that the majority of the winners were east of the Mississippi River," said NCGA President Lee Klein of Battle Creek, Neb. "Growers in eastern states who endured devastating droughts in previous years finally enjoyed better-than-ideal growing conditions in 2000."

Casino plans $300 million expansion, including hotel: The Match-E-B-Nash-She-Wish Band of Pottawatomi Indians, or Gun Lake Tribe, will add a hotel and resort amenities as part of a $300 million expansion planned at its Gun Lake Casino, the tribe announced.

The project, which will be the largest expansion yet for the casino, will add 250,000 square feet to extend the property west toward US-131. New additions to Gun Lake Casino will include a 250-room hotel with luxury suites, a full service spa and a restaurant. The expansion also includes a fully enclosed glass domed pool and nightlife entertainment space. Guests will be able to rent private cabanas by the pool during the day while the new space will include live entertainment at night.

"We are proud of the continued growth of Gun Lake Casino which is directly connected to the outstanding effort of our team members," Gun Lake Tribe Chairman Bob Peters said in a statement. "The tribe remains steadfastly committed to reinvest in our collective future, for the benefit of tribal citizens, team members and the local community. This will provide even more employment opportunities and enhance Gun Lake Casino's position as a tourism driver for western Michigan."

The casino has undergone multiple expansions since it opened in 2011. The casino's $100 million, 72,000-square-foot expansion that kicked off in 2019 is set to open at the end of 2021. The expanded facility includes space for 450 additional slot machines, 12 new table games and a larger non-smoking area inside the casino. It also adds more capacity to the casino's entertainment venue and additional upscale restaurants.

City Proposals

Macatawa Area Express (MAX) Transportation Authority Operating Millage - This proposal will authorize the City of Holland and Holland Charter Township to levy 0.6 mill for the purposes of funding operations of the Macatawa Area Express (MAX) Transportation Authority, including replacing reductions in State funding. Of the 0.6 mill, (i) 0.3854 mill represents a renewal of the 0.4 mill authorization approved by the electors in 2021, which will expire December 31, 2026, (ii) 0.0146 mill represents a restoration of that portion of the same authority which has been reduced by application of the Headlee Amendment, and (iii) 0.2 mill represents an increase in the levy: Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be imposed on taxable property in the City of Holland and Holland Charter Township be increased by 0.6 mill ($0.60 per $1,000 of taxable value) for a period of five (5) years, 2027 through 2031 inclusive, as a renewal of the 0.3854 mill previously authorized by the electors which expires December 31, 2026 plus new additional millage in the amount of 0.2146, for the purpose of operating Macatawa Area Express (MAX) Transportation Authority (whose geographic boundaries are coterminous with those of the City of Holland and Holland Charter Township), including maintaining existing public transportation services, and expanding new mobility options like micro-transit services to improve access for seniors, workers, students, and residents with limited transportation? It is estimated that, if levied, the 0.6 mill would raise approximately $2,454,982.00 in the 2027 calendar year.

School Proposals

GOBLES PUBLIC SCHOOLS OPERATING MILLAGE RENEWAL PROPOSAL - This proposal will allow the school district to continue to levy the statutory rate of not to exceed 18 mills on all property, except principal residence and other property exempted by law, required for the school district to receive its full revenue per pupil foundation allowance. The remaining 16.7748 mills are only available to be levied to restore millage lost as a result of the reduction required by the Michigan Constitution of 1963 and will only be levied to the extent necessary to restore that reduction. The total operating millage levied will not exceed 18 mills in any year. Shall the currently authorized millage rate limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property, except principal residence and other property exempted by law, in Gobles Public Schools, Van Buren and Allegan Counties, Michigan, be renewed by 34.7748 mills ($34.7748 on each $1,000 of taxable valuation) for a period of 10 years, 2027 to 2036, inclusive, to provide funds for operating purposes; the estimate of the revenue the school district will collect if the millage is approved and 18 mills are levied in 2027 is approximately $1,276,640 (this is a renewal of millage that will expire with the 2026 tax levy)? SCHOOL DISTRICT OF THE CITY OF HOLLAND SINKING FUND MILLAGE PROPOSAL - Shall the limitation on the amount of taxes which may be assessed against all property in the School District of the City of Holland, Ottawa and Allegan Counties, Michigan, be increased by and the board of education be authorized to levy not to exceed 1.25 mills ($1.25 on each $1,000 of taxable valuation) for a period of 10 years, 2027 to 2036, inclusive, to create a sinking fund for the purchase of real estate for sites for and the construction or repair of school buildings; for school security improvements; for the acquisition or upgrading of technology; for the acquisition of student transportation vehicles; for the acquisition of parts, supplies, and equipment used for the maintenance of student transportation vehicles; for the acquisition of eligible trucks and vans used to carry parts, equipment, and personnel for or in the maintenance of school buildings; for the acquisition of parts, supplies, and equipment used to maintain such trucks and vans; and all other purposes authorized by law; the estimate of the revenue the school district will collect if the millage is approved and levied in 2027 is approximately $2,540,000? HOPKINS PUBLIC SCHOOLS BOND PROPOSAL - Shall Hopkins Public Schools, Allegan County, Michigan, borrow the sum of not to exceed One Hundred Ten Million Five Hundred Sixty Thousand Dollars ($110,560,000) and issue its general obligation unlimited tax bonds therefor, in one or more series, for the purpose of: erecting, furnishing and equipping new school buildings and facilities; erecting additions to and remodeling, furnishing and refurbishing, and equipping and re-equipping school buildings; purchasing school buses; acquiring and installing instructional technology and instructional technology equipment for school buildings; and equipping, developing, and improving athletic fields and facilities, parking areas, driveways, and sites? The following is for informational purposes only: The estimated millage that will be levied for the proposed bonds in 2026, under current law, is 3.80 mills ($3.80 on each $1,000 of taxable valuation) for a -0- mill net increase over the prior year's levy. The maximum number of years the bonds of any series may be outstanding, exclusive of any refunding, is twenty-six (26) years. The estimated simple average annual millage anticipated to be required to retire this bond debt is 7.95 mills ($7.95 on each $1,000 of taxable valuation). The school district expects to borrow from the State School Bond Qualification and Loan Program to pay debt service on these bonds. The estimated total principal amount of that borrowing is $32,220,929 and the estimated total interest to be paid thereon is $33,515,029. The estimated duration of the millage levy associated with that borrowing is 26 years and the estimated computed millage rate for such levy is 10.34 mills. The estimated computed millage rate may change based on changes in certain circumstances. The total amount of qualified bonds currently outstanding is $9,465,000. The total amount of qualified loans currently outstanding is $0. (Pursuant to State law, expenditure of bond proceeds must be audited and the proceeds cannot be used for repair or maintenance costs, teacher, administrator or employee salaries, or other operating expenses.) SAUGATUCK PUBLIC SCHOOLS SINKING FUND MILLAGE PROPOSAL - This proposal renews building and site sinking fund millage that expired with the 2025 tax levy and restores millage lost as a result of the reduction required by the Michigan Constitution of 1963. RELIGION SECTION

One of my favorite Easter stories comes from that afternoon when two men were leaving Jerusalem to return home to Emmaus. They were downhearted, bitterly disappointed that Jesus had been executed by the Romans, and the promise of the Kingdom was once again delayed.

Suddenly, they were joined by a third man, and they invited him to come along with them. While they were talking, they discussed what had just occurred over the past few days, and Jesus carefully began explaining everything to them. To make a long story short, it was only after the Lord departed that they realized how they had felt their hearts strangely warmed. They realized it was the risen Lord and hurried back to Jerusalem to tell the disciples.

In our life we often think of friends as being long-term. Perhaps someone from childhood or school, or someone we have known for years. It is too easy to forget the short-term ones. A very wise woman once described the difference as long-term “friends of the heart” and short-term as “friends of the road.” In the Gospel story, this was a matter of friends of the road.

We have many opportunities for that sort of friendship. It is the quick compliment from someone we don’t know, and instantly we feel a bit better. It could be as short as a smile and acknowledgement as we pass by each other. Although these friends of the road are mere blips and flashes in our life they are increasingly important. It might include people we meet on vacation, spend a few hours or days with them, and then we go our separate ways.

You and I live in an increasingly isolated and isolating world. We are wary of anyone who comes to our door unannounced or invited. A telephone call is seen by some as intrusive. They prefer a text. On the street or in public, many people are looking down and focused on their devices. They never see, much less converse, with others.

Long before this change in our common life my father taught, “If you want to have a friend, be a friend.” That certainly applies to today’s culture. No one can ever have too many friends.

This is why I appreciate the final blessing that we have been using the past year at Good Shepherd, “Life is short, and we do not have much time to gladden the hearts of those who travel with us. Be swift to love; make haste to be kind.”
